A New Beginning: The Fisher Era Starts Here

Hard work was a family value in the Clarksburg, West Virginia home where Jimbo Fisher was raised; the oldest son of a coal miner and a teacher. Applying those lessons instilled at an early age served Fisher well both athletically and professionally and ultimately delivered him to Florida State University, where he was elevated to head football coach on January 5, 2010.

A veteran of 22 seasons as a college assistant, the last three as FSU's offensive coordinator, Fisher succeeds Bobby Bowden – the second winningest coach in major college football – as the Seminoles' ninth head coach and first new one in 35 years.

"It is not a common man that I introduce you to today as our head football coach," FSU Director of Athletics Randy Spetman said at Fisher's formal introduction. "A common man would not have the courage, patience and determination to follow the greatest college football coach in history. A common man would find it too challenging to accept the coach-in-waiting role and ignore openings at other top-flight programs. A common man could not have rekindled the Seminoles spirit, excitement and vision so quickly."

That vibrant spirit continues to reverberate throughout the Florida State fan base as Fisher leads the program into his first spring practice. Few embody the "unconquered spirit" that defines the Seminole Nation as well as Fisher, whose best attributes include: a relentless work ethic, the passionate pursuit of perfection, a keen vision for the long range future as well as a sense of place for faith, family and football.

"I've been preparing for this day for a long time," said Fisher. "I've been fortunate in my life to be around a lot of successful people that I have learned many, many things from. But I think the greatest thing that I've learned from them is I have to be myself. I must do things the way I want to do them, do what got me here and remember the reasons why I am here."

Fisher did not waste any time assembling his first coaching staff, retaining four assistants, three of whom came to FSU with him in 2007. Rick Trickett retains his title as assistant head coach offense/offensive line, while James Coley adds offensive coordinator to his duties as tight ends coach. Receivers coach Lawrence Dawsey adds passing game coordinator to his resume. Odell Haggins, the longest-tenured FSU staff member, will continue to coach the defensive line. He rounded out his staff with five new assistants, many of whom he had crossed paths throughout his career either directly or indirectly:

Mark Stoops, 42, succeeds Mickey Andrews as the Seminoles' defensive coordinator/defensive backs coach. A 20-year veteran, Stoops comes to FSU from Arizona where he held the same responsibilities for his brother Mike Stoops.

Eddie Gran, 44, is the most seasoned of the newcomers with 23 years at the collegiate level, including the last 16 in the SEC. Gran, who spent the 2009 season at Tennessee, is the associate head coach and will oversee running backs and coordinate special teams.

Greg Hudson, 42, assistant head coach defense/linebackers coach, spent the past five seasons as defensive coordinator/linebackers coach at East Carolina. His 20-year career also includes stops at Minnesota, Cincinnati and Connecticut.

Dameyune Craig, 35, who spent the last two seasons at South Alabama, will coach quarterbacks and serve as recruiting coordinator. He played quarterback for four seasons at Auburn under Fisher's direction. Craig also brings NFL experience as a player and assistant coach to the table.

D.J. Eliot, 33, is the youngest member of the staff and will coach defensive ends. A 12-year veteran, Eliot spent the past three seasons at Rice, where he was also the recruiting coordinator.

Fisher rounded out his staff by reuniting with strength and conditioning coach Vic Viloria, who has oversight of a completely restructured training program, covering everything from nutrition to mental training. Viloria came directly from SMU, but was an assistant at LSU during Fisher's time with the Tigers.

Fisher will continue to work with the quarterbacks and call plays, while balancing a myriad of responsibilities as he shapes the Seminoles' program in his own image.

"Florida State has had a legacy of some of the greatest character, quality players to ever play in college football and I believe it will take each and every one of them and us to keep FSU on top," Fisher said, reaching out to former 'Noles. "I've met a lot of you. I look forward to meeting the rest of you. There's one thing that's been consistent throughout this university when Coach Bowden came in '76, it's commitment to winning.

"There is such a great desire to be successful here. That feeling is shared by our family, our student body, our alumni, our players and the ex-coaches that have made it that way. We won't be any different. I have stated before, there are many approaches to doing things. I will have my own philosophies on things. I will do things in many different ways, but as long as the core values and principles don't change, to me, then tradition doesn't change."

Developing an infrastructure to improve performance – academically, mentally, physically, nutritionally and socially – is paramount in Fisher's vision for the program.

"We're going to put as big of an emphasis on mental conditioning as we do physical in our program," Fisher said. "You don't need to be sick to get better. ... Our belief and desire is to get our players to feel better about themselves and what they can accomplish. Empowered, confident athletes are winners."

That can only be done by developing an infrastructure Nick Saban used when Fisher was on his LSU staff.

Still, he has a deep appreciation for Bowden's accomplishments and manner, especially as it relates to family – wife Candi and sons Trey and Ethan are a very visible part of the program – and faith.

"History is our greatest teacher and it always will be," Fisher said. "We're not asking to do things that have never been done here before. We're just asking to go back where they should be. With a little bit of hard work, as an old guy used to tell me, the secret to success is that there is no secret. The secret to success is hard work. Have your plan, be yourself, do what you think is right, do what got you here. That won a guy 389 games. Hopefully it will win me a bunch."

2010 Spring Overview: A Look Ahead

OFFENSIVE OVERVIEW

• The Seminoles return 10 starters from the ACC's second-ranked total offense, which averaged 421.4 ypg; less than one yard behind league-leading Georgia Tech. It was statistically the most productive season by an FSU offense since 2001.

• FSU's entire offensive line, two seasons removed from being the nation's youngest unit, return in tact led by fourth-year starters Rodney Hudson and Ryan McMahon at left guard and center.

• Of the 391 points scored in 2009 (30.1 ppg), the players responsible for scoring 345 of those points return. That's 88.2 percent of the scoring production back in 2010.

• The Seminoles completed a league-leading 67.7 percent of their pass attempts, which was the best percentage by an FSU team since 1993 (69.7) and the eighth-best season in league history.

• Led by tailback Jermaine Thomas (832 yds, 9 TDs) the Seminoles produced 27 rushing touchdowns for the second consecutive season, matching the best output by an FSU offense since 1995 (35 TDs).

• FSU's offense was extremely efficient in the area of putting together extended scoring drives. The Seminoles had 21 scoring drives of 10 plays or more, resulting in 14 TDs and 7 FGs. There were 12 scoring drives of 80 or more yards and 17 scoring drives that took 5 minutes or more off the clock.

QUARTERBACKS

• Rising senior quarterback Christian Ponder enters his third season as the starter. Ponder led the ACC in total offense with 321.8 ypg in '09, which was the sixth-best total in league history. Though he suffered a season-ending, right shoulder injury in the ninth game, Ponder's 301.9 passing yards a game was the best among ACC quarterbacks. His completion percentage (68.8) led all ACC quarterbacks and was the best season for an FSU signal caller since Charlie Ward (69.5) in his 1993, Heisman Trophy-winning season.

• As a redshirt freshman, EJ Manuel guided the Seminoles to a 3-1 record as Ponder's replacement. He led FSU to bowl eligibility for a nation-leading, 28th consecutive time and capped it with Konica Minolta Gator Bowl MVP honors in Hall of Fame coach Bobby Bowden's final game – a 33-21 victory over West Virginia. Manuel completed 65.1 percent of his pass attempts for 817 yards and rushed for 196 yards on the season. Manuel will miss spring practice while recovering from right shoulder surgery but is expected to be at full strength to start fall practice.

• With Ponder limited and Manuel sidelined for the spring, much of the practice work will fall to redshirt freshman Will Secord and true freshman Clint Trickett. Secord, a left-hander who directed the scout team offense last fall, passed for more than 4,400 yards and 40 touchdowns over his final two seasons at Frisco (Tex.) Wakeland High.

• Trickett comes to FSU from Tallahassee North Florida Christian, where he won a state title as a sophomore and developed into one of the top passing quarterbacks in the state. The son of Seminoles' offensive line coach Rick Trickett was a three-year starter at NFC, where he passed for more than 5,300 yards and threw 59 TD passes.

• Veteran walk-ons Andrew Nowels, Ridge Read and Brandon

Parks will provide valuable spring practice depth at the position.

RUNNING BACKS

- First-year running backs coach Eddie Gran has a sterling track record for turning out quality backs, with eight of his former pupils moving on to the NFL franks. Gran, who places ball security and blocking at the top of his priority list, will have a stable of options to assess as he opens up the competition this spring.
- Jermaine Thomas enters his junior season as the Seminoles' most experienced and productive tailback, with four 100-yard performances over the final six games and a 5.1 ypc average on the year. FSU was 3-1 when Thomas rushed for 100 yards or more.
- Rising junior Ty Jones endured a roller coaster '09 campaign, highlighted by his 108-yard rushing performance in FSU's road rout of BYU, but marred by five games of inactivity. Still, Jones averaged 4.9 ypc on the year and his five rushing TDs were second only to Thomas.
- As a freshman Lonnie Pryor was both productive and versatile, lining up at both tailback and fullback. His 5.8 ypc average led all 'Noles with 10 or more carries and his four rushing TDs ranked third on the team. Pryor led all backs with 132 receiving yards on 10 catches.
- Chris Thompson provided FSU with a change-of-pace option from the tailback spot as a freshman in '09. He demonstrated his big play ability when he broke off a 49-yard run against Georgia Tech. Thompson averaged 5.2 ypc on 23 totes in a supporting role.

- Rising senior Tavares Pressley saw limited (9 carries, 40 yards) action in '09 after sitting out the previous season following knee surgery. Pressley will compete with JUCO transfer Debrale Smiley, a sophomore from Thomas County (Ga.) Central via Itawamba (Miss.) Community College, for the big back role.
- Senior fullbacks Matt Dunham and walk-on Danny Gard will also battle for playing opportunities in the spring.

WIDE RECEIVERS

- Bert Reed enters his junior season in the fall as FSU's most productive receiver, thanks to a career-high 60-reception, 710-yard campaign in 2009, both of which ranked second on the squad. One of the ACC's top returnees, Reed's dangerous with the ball in his hands either after the catch or as a rusher.
- As a sophomore, Jarmon Fortson withstood bouts of inconsistency to emerge as one of the Seminoles' big-play threats. An impressive physical specimen, Fortson caught a career-high 45 passes for 610 yards and led FSU with four TD receptions.
- Taiwan Easterling is taking a break from spring football to play baseball for the Seminoles, but also put up his best numbers as a sophomore in '09, with 35 receptions for 442 yards and two scores.
- As freshmen, Willie Haulstead and Rodney Smith saw most of their action on FSU special teams, with each managing just one reception. Spring practice should provide the physically imposing duo with an outstanding opportunity to work their way into the receiving rotation.
- Freshman Josh Gehres, who earned Offensive Scout Team MVP honors while taking a redshirt season in the fall, will have the opportunity to display his command of the playbook for the first time this spring.

TIGHT ENDS

- Rising junior Beau Reliford will try and build on his expanded role in '09, when he took over the starting job for injured senior Caz Piurowski midway through the season. Reliford finished with 11 receptions for 101 yards and two TDs, including his game-winning score at North Carolina.
- Ja'Baris Little enters his junior season with two career starts and appearances in 20 games. Primarily used as a blocker, his lone reception last season came at BYU and was the first completion for QB EJ Manuel.

OFFENSIVE LINE

• The Seminoles' most seasoned unit returns all five starters in 2010, who have combined for 142 career starts. Collectively, it's a group that has grown up together, beginning in '08 when it was the youngest starting line in the BCS ranks.

• Senior left guard Rodney Hudson earned multiple All-American honors in '09, despite missing a pair of starts with a knee sprain. Owner of the Seminoles' top season grade, Hudson is a relentless technician who captured the ACC's Jacobs Blocking Trophy last season and could become the league's first lineman to earn All-ACC honors for four consecutive years.

• No lineman has more experience than rising senior center Ryan McMahon, who has made 39 consecutive starts – every game for three seasons – since transitioning from the defensive line prior to the '07 season. A two-time Rimington Award candidate, his toughness and reliability set the tone up front.

• Andrew Datko has started 25 of 26 games at left tackle for the Seminoles and was a dominant force in '09, locking down some of the nation's top pass rushers after earning the distinction of being the most physically-improved player.

• As a sophomore, David Spurlock started all 13 games at right guard, pushing his career total to 21. Spurlock brings an edge to the unit and stepped up his play in Hudson's two-game absence due to injury.

• With 12-game right tackle starter Zebrie Sanders sidelined for the spring following surgery, opportunities abound for a host of reserves. Rhonne Sanderson, who made one start last season, is also limited this spring. FSU will welcome back Antwane Greenlee, who has missed all of last season with a knee injury.

• Among the relatively untested who will get extended spring experience are redshirt freshmen Bryan Stork and Henry Orelus, sophomore Blake Snider and junior walk-on Jacob Stanley.

DEFENSIVE OVERVIEW

• The Seminoles return six starters from a defensive unit which struggled mightily in the final season for long-time coordinator Mickey Andrews, yielding 434.6 yards and 30 points per game.

• Mark Stoops brings an entirely new scheme to the Seminoles as their first-year coordinator, promising multiple looks from a base four-man front, with an increase in zone coverage.

• FSU returns its top two tacklers – linebackers Nigel Bradham and Kendall Smith – and players responsible for 18 of its 27 takeaways during the 2009 season.

• The 'Noles will try and replace a pair of second-team All-ACC honorees in linebacker Dekoda Watson and cornerback Patrick Robinson. Robinson is one of three secondary starters who do not return in '10.

• Beefing up to stop the run will be a top priority of the retooled coaching staff after the Seminoles yielded a league-high 204.6 rushing yards per game. FSU will also look to bolster its ability to rush the passer, after managing just 26 sacks in 2009.

DEFENSIVE ENDS

- Markus White returns for his senior season as the incumbent at right end, where he produced 10 ½ tackles for loss – tops among returnees – two sacks and an interception return for a touchdown. The one-time JUCO national defensive player of the year is girding for a big finish to his FSU career.
- As a true freshman, Brandon Jenkins saw action in 12 games and produced 12 tackles, three tackles for loss and a team-leading four quarterback hurries.
- Rising redshirt sophomore Toshmon Stevens played in all 13 games in '09 and despite modest numbers, broke through for a key tackle for loss in the Gator Bowl victory. Rising junior Jamar Jackson also saw action in 12 games in a reserve capacity.
- Spring will provide the Seminoles' coaching staff with a chance to evaluate the development of redshirt freshman Dan Hicks, who earned scout team defensive player of the year honors in the fall. Demonte McAllister, who also sat out last fall as a true freshman following knee surgery, has the flexibility of playing inside or out.

DEFENSIVE TACKLES

- The Seminoles must replace three players from the rotation along the interior line, but welcome back the duo of Moses McCray and Everett Dawkins, who combined for 16 starts at the two spots.
- McCray, who will miss the spring following elbow surgery, played in 12 games (nine starts) and registered 12 tackles. A physical force, he spent the last half of the season limited by the elbow injury.
- Dawkins, who began the season as a reserve defensive end, appeared in all 13 games and produced 14 stops, including 3 ½ behind the line of scrimmage. He off-set his undersized frame with quickness at the point of attack.
- The most productive interior lineman was true freshman Jacobbi McDaniel, who despite making only two starts, led the group with 25 tackles, including four for losses. McDaniel also tied for the team lead with four forced fumbles in 13 games, including the game-changing play in a fourth quarter rally against Jacksonville State.
- Sophomore Anthony "Amp" McCloud's arrival from Itwamba (Miss.) Community College via Thomasville (Ga.) Thomas County Central – where he was the area defensive player of the year in 2007 – should provide an immediate lift. The 303-pounder had 20 solo stops and four sacks during the '08 JUCO season.

LINEBACKERS

- Nigel Bradham came into his own as a sophomore in 2009, leading the team with 93 tackles – including 61 solos - from his weakside position. Bradham was a dominant force over the second half of the season, with double-digit tackles in three of his final five games, including a career-high 12 to go along with a fumble recovery against Florida. He made 12 starts and played in all 13 games last season.

• Kendall Smith started all 13 games at middle linebacker and finished second on the team with 85 tackles, including seven stops behind the line of scrimmage. A rising senior, Smith is the team's most experienced player having participated in each of the last 39 games.

• Rising senior Mister Alexander found a home last season as the back-up to Dekoda Watson at the strongside position and was especially effective in pass-rushing situations. Finally free of the injuries that limited him to three games over the two previous seasons, Alexander produced 17 tackles in 13 games, but six of those were for losses, including five sacks which leads all returnees.

• Weakside linebacker Nigel Carr, Bradham's back-up in '09, could be on the verge of a breakthrough junior campaign after emerging as one of the most improved players in the off-season program. In 13 games in '09, Carr came through with 26 tackles, which led all non-starters.

• The Seminoles welcome back redshirt sophomore Vince Williams, who was forced to sit out last season with a back injury after serving as a back-up in '08. Williams, a 250-pounder, spent most of his freshman season as a reserve middle linebacker.

• Early freshman enrollee Jeff Luc is a physically mature young man who was rated among the nation's very best inside linebackers in the fall of '09 at Treasure Coast High School. An imposing 248-pounder, Luc will get a jump-start in the spring ahead of his heralded FSU linebacker classmates.

SECONDARY

• Graduate student Ochuko Jenije is the lone returning secondary starter for the Seminoles, after earning 13 starts at one cornerback position in 2009. Jenije shared the team lead with four interceptions, including the first two of his career against USF. He finished with a career-high 31 tackles, of which, 26 were solo stops.

• As a true freshman, cornerback Greg Reid made quite a splash as the nation's leading punt return specialist, and also as the starter in FSU's nickel back alignment. Reid began his career with an interception against Miami in his first game, then returned an interception 63 yards for a touchdown in the Seminoles' road win at BYU. Reid made 23 stops on the year and his six pass break-ups are tops among returnees.

• Rising junior Dionte Allen is the only other cornerback with playing experience. The Michigan native missed four games following surgery to repair a broken thumb, but did earn his first start against Georgia Tech in '09. In limited action Allen logged 15 tackles, broke up three passes and forced a fumble.

• Redshirt freshman cornerback Xavier Rhodes impressed the coaching staff last season with his physical play on the edge during practices. Fully recovered from a thumb injury which required surgery, the rangy Miami native will get his first real crack at working his way into the lineup.

• FSU will start two new safeties in 2010 and junior Terrance Parks and sophomore Nick Moody will be vying to fill those voids. Parks saw limited action as the back-up to graduate Jamie Robinson at free safety, participating in nine games. Moody played in all 13 games, including a pair of starts, and finished with 33 tackles from the rover (strong safety) position.

• Tallahassee product Jajuan Harley, one of FSU's top athletes, is a candidate to push for a starting job at one safety position. Injury and illness limited Harley to 11 games, predominantly on special teams.

• Two heralded redshirt freshmen safeties – Justin Bright and Gerald Demps - who spent most of last season on the scout team, will also have an opportunity to leave a strong impression in their first spring practice with the 'Noles.

SPECIAL TEAMS OVERVIEW

• As freshmen, kicker Dustin Hopkins and return specialist Greg Reid helped the Seminoles earn the reputation as one of the nation's most productive programs in the areas of special teams play.

• Hopkins led the Seminoles in scoring with 97 points, which was the most productive season by a freshman kicker in FSU football history. He converted 19 of 27 field goal attempts, including a season-long of 52 yards on his first collegiate attempt against Miami. Hopkins set a school bowl mark with four field goals in the Gator Bowl victory against West Virginia. He also produced 24 touchbacks, which ranked fourth nationally.

• Reid earned multiple All-American honors as the nation's punt return leader (18.4), highlighted by his 68-yard return for a touchdown at Wake Forest. He also ranked among the ACC's top kickoff return men (25.5). In all, he amassed 1,051 yards on 47 returns; better than 22 yards a touch.

• Punter Shawn Powell returns for his junior season after handling the duties in 2009. He averaged 41.6 yards on 43 punts, including an ACC-best 64-yarder, while pinning opponents inside the 20 13 times and forcing six fair catches. Powell also handles the holding duties.

• Redshirt freshmen Chris Revell and Phillip Doumar will begin their battle to replace two-year long snapper Zach Aronson.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - The No. 18 Florida State football team fell in heartbreaking fashion Labor Day night to visiting Miami, 38-34.

With just five seconds remaining and the ball positioned on the Hurricanes' two yard-line, FSU quarterback Christian Ponder's potential game-winning pass to Jarmon Fortson hit the ground in the endzone as time expired.

Blitzing from the cornerback position, true freshman Greg Reid violently slammed into 'Canes quarterback Jacory Harris and forced a wobbly pass that was intercepted and returned 31 yards for the go-ahead score by FSU defensive end Markus White.

Showing his short memory and ability to bounce back from a big hit, Harris then led a scoring drive on Miami's ensuing possession that knotted the score at 31-31 with just over seven minutes to play.

Following a 45-yard field goal by Seminoles true freshman kicker Dustin Hopkins with 4:11 remaining in the game, the Hurricanes marched down the field once again and Miami tailback Graig Cooper bounded into the endzone from three yards to give his team what would turn out to be the game-winning score.

For the game, the Seminole defense allowed Harris to complete 21 of his 34 pass attempts for a career-best 386 yards and two scores.

Offensively, Ponder finished with a career-high 294 yards on 24-for-41 passing. He tossed two touchdown passes but also had an interception.

After completions to Goodman and Rod Owens put the 'Noles in scoring position, Ponder's nifty nine-yard touchdown run pushed the score to 16-14 before a missed extra point.

A few minutes later, Reid once again served as the catalyst for a Florida State scoring drive. After his interception of Harris deep in Seminole territory, the FSU offense kicked into high gear.

First Ponder hooked up with Goodman for a 28-yard gain and then a few plays later wide receiver Louis Givens took a reverse handoff 13 yards. Wide receiver Taiwan Easterling then proved the ruptured Achilles tendon he sustained in the spring was a thing of the past as he grabbed a pass and grinded out a 21-yard touchdown reception to put FSU on top 23-14.

Rated the consensus No. 1 kicker as a high school senior a year ago, Hopkins didn't wait long to make his presence known in a rivalry that has historically featured the kickers.

The Houston, Texas native put an exclamation point on a 64-yard drive as he set a new school record for an FSU player's first career kick with a 52-yard field goal. The lengthy three-point play put FSU on top 10-7 with 2:50 remaining before halftime.

Unfortunately for the Seminoles, the excitement of Hopkins' successful debut was short lived as Miami had an answer.

On the ensuing drive, Harris orchestrated a 75-yard drive that was culminated by a five-yard Javarris James touchdown dive.

FSU tried to answer but Ponder's attempted pass to Goodman in the endzone was intercepted by Miami safety Randy Phillips just before intermission.

Florida State scored its first touchdown of the young season on the team's very first offensive possession.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - The Florida State football team avoided the unthinkable Saturday night as the Seminoles escaped with a 19-9 victory over visiting Jacksonville State.

Trailing most of the game, FSU (1-1, 0-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) rattled off 12-straight points in the game's final three minutes thanks to a high-pressure offensive drive and a game-sealing defensive play.

Down 9-7, FSU senior linebacker Dekoda Watson's sack of Jacksonville State quarterback Ryan Perrilloux with three minutes remaining helped initiate what would become the Seminoles' comeback drive.

Starting from his own 42-yard line with just 2:45 remaining on the clock, Seminoles quarterback Christian Ponder hooked up with Richard Goodman on the drive's seventh play for a 24-yard gain.

The long pass-play was then followed a short time later by tailback Ty Jones' one-yard plunge as the clock ticked to 35 seconds left and the scoreboard moved to 13-9 in favor of the Seminoles.

McNeil blocked a field goal late in the third quarter but the offense couldn't turn it into any points. Senior wide receiver Louis Givens took a long pass-play down near the goal-line but fumbled at the end of the run.

The only real highlight for the Seminoles before the final few moments was Jones' seven-yard rumble into the endzone late in the first quarter. The scoring play, which put FSU on top 7-6, was set up by a career-best 53-yard reception by Piurowski.

For the game, Ponder broke the career-high he set against the Hurricanes as he finished the game against the Gamecocks with 324 yards passing.

Ponder's first-ever 300-yard passing game was made possible by his ability to spread the wealth. Just like he did against Miami, FSU's starting signal-caller connected with eight different pass-catchers.

Goodman led the 'Noles with eight catches for 80 yards while Rod Owens had four grabs for 47 yards. Piurowski added 78 yards on two catches.

Defensively, redshirt freshman rover Nick Moody made the most of his first-ever start as he finished with 10 tackles. Senior Kendall Smith also posted 10 stops from his Mike linebacker spot.

Defensive captain Dekoda Watson paced his unit with an impressive 3.5 sacks and nine tackles.

PROVO, Utah - The Cougars never had a chance ... and now the Seminoles will be bringing some turf back to the east coast.

Underdogs to the seventh-ranked team in the nation, the Florida State football team went out to Provo, Utah and blasted BYU 54-28 to put an end to the Cougar's 18-game home winning streak.

In doing so, Dekoda Watson will bring home a chunk of the turf to bury in the program's storied Sod Cemetery on campus.

FSU starting quarterback Christian Ponder was masterful in the mountains as he completed 21 of his 25 pass attempts for 195 yards, two touchdowns and no turnovers as the Seminoles (2-1, 0-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) moved to a perfect 7-0 when the redshirt junior doesn't throw an interception.

A stable of tailbacks held it down on the ground after struggling through the first two games of the year. Ty Jones led the way with 109 yards on 13 carries and Lonnie Pryor added 50 yards and two scores on seven rushes. Ponder amassed 79 yards and a score on 11 carries as FSU rushed for a team total of 313 yards.

Jarmon Fortson and Rod Owens had four catches each for a combined 90 yards. Bert Reed had 34 yards receiving and Caz Piurowski had 38 of his own for a Seminole offense that scored the second most points ever allowed by BYU (2-1) on its home field.

Defensively, the Seminoles had difficulty stopping a talented Cougars offense as quarterback Max Hall's unit posted 475 total yards. Still, FSU made plays when it had to as the team forced five turnovers and scored 17 points off those takeaways.

On the first drive of the evening, FSU marched 80 yards and Jones dove into the endzone from three yards out.

The Cougars were then threatening to score on their first drive but Budd Thacker forced a fumble and last week's hero, Kevin McNeil, scooped it off the turf. The stellar defensive play was followed up by another fantastic drive for FSU.

The 'Noles were methodical as they picked and popped the BYU defense on a commanding 18-play drive. Lining up at fullback, Pryor then scored his first TD as a Seminole as he slammed in for a one-yard score to push the FSU lead to 13-0 early in the second quarter.

BYU was able to respond on the ensuing drive with a touchdown but the FSU offense didn't care. After Greg Reid took the kick-off to the 40-yard line, Jones' highlight-reel run of 47 yards put FSU on the BYU nine-yard line. On the very next play, Pryor danced into the endzone from nine yards away for his second score.

After a BYU score cut the FSU lead to 20-14, Ponder orchestrated another beautiful drive. Playing in his first game for FSU, redshirt junior tailback Tavares Pressley's 12-yard run put the 'Noles on the BYU five-yard line and then two plays later Piurowski snared a five-yard pass in the back of the endzone as FSU jumped out to a 27-14 lead with 24 seconds left in the second quarter.

And they weren't done. On the following kick-off, true freshman safety Jajuan Harley forced a fumble and kicker Dustin Hopkins was then able to drill a 33-yard field as the first-half clock expired to give Florida State a 30-14 advantage at the break.

Looking to add to the lead, the Seminoles did just that at the start of the third quarter. With BYU moving down the field at ease, Reid stepped in front of Hall's pass and returned it 63 yards. The INT was Reid's second of his career and the score was his first.

On top 37-14 against a Cougars team that had allowed just an average of eight points per game prior to Saturday's contest, the FSU defense forced the first BYU punt of the night. The offense then scored again when Ponder dove into the endzone a few minutes later to extend the Seminoles' lead to a staggering 44-14.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- It was just one of those days for the No. 18-ranked Florida State football team Saturday in the team's "White Out" game against South Florida.

The Seminoles (2-2, 0-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) struggled from start to finish in their first-ever contest against the Bulls (4-0, 0-0) and limped out of Doak Campbell Stadium with a 17-7 defeat.

Blame the turnovers and FSU's inability to make the most of its opportunities in the meltdown. In total, the Seminoles lost four fumbles and only scored once in the four times they reached the redzone.

His counterpart, Seminoles quarterback Christian Ponder, was noticeably different after his heroics at BYU left him banged up and hurting. Ponder never had much time to throw on Saturday and completed 25 of his 37 passes for 269 with no touchdowns and no interceptions.

Bert Reed led the FSU receivers with career highs in both catches (nine) and yards (114). The Seminole rushing attack was non-existent as the team mustered just 19 yards on 27 carries.

After a Ponder to Reed connection for 22 yards put the 'Noles on the three yard-line, Ty Jones bullied his way into the endzone and FSU cut its deficit to 14-7.

But that would be it.

Redshirt junior defensive back Ochuko Jenije's second interception of the day with just a few minutes left in the fourth quarter appeared to be what FSU needed. But on the Seminoles' very first play of the resulting drive Ponder lost the ball on a sack and USF recovered.

The Bulls added a field goal and the resulting 17-7 score wouldn't change.

The 'Noles bad luck continued a few moments later when Taiwan Easterling fumbled the ball away just a few yards from the endzone. Again, USF didn't waste any time capitalizing as Daniels tossed a 73-yard score to Sterling Griffin to give the Bulls a 14-0 halftime advantage.

The only good thing for FSU in the first half? Two missed USF field goals.

Florida State will now play against its second conference opponent of the year as the team will travel to play at Boston College on Saturday.

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. - Florida State was inches away from a comeback for the ages that would have left Seminole fans discussing this game for years to come.

In its second Atlantic Coast Conference game of the season, Florida State (2-3, 0-2 ACC) fell to Boston College (4-1, 2-1 ACC) 28-21 despite out gaining the Eagles in total yards by a 411-399 margin.

Quarterback Christian Ponder threw for a career-high 340 yards but it was not enough as Boston College answered FSU's 18 unanswered points with a Montel Harris 42-yard touchdown run to put the game away late in the fourth quarter. The Seminoles held an advantage in nearly every facet of the game except rushing yards as Boston College out gained FSU 188-72 on the ground.

The Seminole defense forced the Eagles into a three and out and avoided disaster when Greg Reid misplayed a punt but was able to recover his own fumble at the Florida State 16-yard line.

Ponder then went to work and drove the Seminoles 78 yards and sophomore running back Jermaine Thomas found the end zone for the first time this season on a two-yard touchdown run.

Then down 21-19 the Seminoles were forced to go for two and Bert Reed worked a little Seminole magic. Rolling to his right on a reverse pass, he found tight end Caz Piurowski for a diving conversion in the back of the end zone.

Florida State had its best opportunity at getting the ball back slip through its hands when Greg Reid dropped a sure interception on a Dave Shinskie pass across the middle. On the very next play the Seminoles were flagged for pass interference giving the Eagles a crucial first down. Then Harris reeled off his 42-yard run putting Boston College in front by a 28-21 margin.

The Seminoles had plenty of time to mount another comeback as they started with the ball at their own 41-yard line and quickly moved to the BC side of the field when Ponder hooked up with Reed for the sixth time in the game, a 19-yard pickup.

Ponder would find Taiwan Easterling later in the drive for a critical first down on third and seven but the drive would stall there as a completion for no gain and three straight incompletions ended the drive and gave the ball back to Boston College who ran out the clock.

Reed finished with seven catches for 106 yards, while fellow receiver Richard Goodman was not far behind with nine catches for 105 yards.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. -- There's seesaw battles and then there's the epic back-and-forth offensive spectacle that took place at Doak Campbell Stadium Saturday night between Florida State and No. 22 Georgia Tech.

When the dust settled, and both team's offenses retired to their respective corners, the Yellow Jackets escaped with a 49-44 victory over a Seminoles team that had no defensive answers and failed on several occasions to make the most of potential game-changing opportunities.

The 'Noles, they made their mark through the air as quarterback Christian Ponder achieved a new career-high with 359 yards on 26-of-36 passing with five touchdowns and no interceptions. His favorite target was Jarmon Fortson, whose seven catches and 77 yards receiving were both career-bests.

Taiwan Easterling was also a frequent target as his 104 yards receiving marked the first 100-yard game of his career.

As for the rushing attack, Jermaine Thomas bounced back from a slow start to his sophomore campaign as he finished with 98 yards on 19 carries. True freshman Chris Thompson had 49 yards on one long scamper.

For the game, FSU registered a season-high 539 yards on offense.

Less than four minutes after the Seminoles symbolically walked onto the field, hand-in-hand around their head coach, the offense proceeded to walk straight into the endzone on the team's first drive.

The quick score by the Seminoles was a sign of things to come - despite a lengthy lightning delay that began right after Georgia Tech tied the game at 7-7 with 6:50 left in the first quarter.

Once both teams reemerged from the locker rooms, the dullness of a game stoppage was all but forgotten. First FSU jumped back on top when Ponder guided the offense down the field and found Reliford from 11 yards out for the sophomore tight end's first-ever collegiate touchdown.

Tied at 14-14, Ponder had an answer as he orchestrated a scoring drive that was punctuated by a beautifully thrown ball to Richard Goodman between two defenders for a 23-yard touchdown with 2:39 to go in the first quarter.

In keeping with the pattern of no punting and consistent scoring by both teams, Ponder tossed his third touchdown of the opening half when Jarmon Fortson snuck one foot into the back of the endzone for a highlight-reel 17-yard score.

Knotted at 28-28, Florida State started at its own 29 yard-line and moved 71 yards in 10 plays. Thomas concluded the drive when he took a three-yard pass to pay dirt to give FSU a 35-28 lead.

Just over two minutes later, Ponder cut into that lead as he hooked up with Rod Owens on a 13-yard scoring strike - his fifth touchdown pass of the day - but the ensuing two-point conversion was no good.

Florida State will now look to regroup as they will benefit from a bye this week.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. -- It's not how you start. It's how you finish.

For a Florida State football team looking for its first conference win of the year Thursday night at North Carolina, that old adage proved especially true.

The Seminoles (3-4, 1-3 Atlantic Coast Conference) bounced back from a nightmarish first half and exploded in the final two quarters to earn a 30-27 victory over the Tar Heels (4-3, 0-3). The win snaps FSU's three-game losing streak and improves the 'Noles all-time record against the 'Heels to 15-1-1.

But guided by their sensational signal caller, Christian Ponder, the Seminoles were a completely different team in the second half.

Ponder was unstoppable in the final 30 minutes against a UNC defense that entered the night ranked No. 1 in the nation against the pass and he finished with a career-high 395 yards with three touchdowns on a remarkable 33-of-40 passing. By reaching that yardage milestone, Ponder became the first Seminole quarterback since Chris Rix in 2001 to throw for over 300 yards in three-straight games.

Rod Owens led all receivers with career-highs in catches (nine) and yards (199).

Florida State finally got its first touchdown of the game midway through the third quarter. Following a North Carolina touchdown that extended the Tar Heel lead to 24-6, Ponder threw a laser to Taiwan Easterling from six yards out for the touchdown.

With the Tar Heel student section just over his right shoulder, Ponder threw a stop-and-go route to Owens on the sideline and the Jacksonville, Fla. native proceeded to sprint down the sideline for an improbable 98-yard touchdown pass.

Not only did the Ponder-Owens connection set the record for longest play ever at Kenan Stadium, it also tied the FSU school record for longest play ever as Chris Weinke and Snoop Minnis' memorable play-action pass against Clemson in 2000 now has company.

For the game, FSU achieved 438 yards compared to UNC's 333. The Seminoles did allow 238 yards rushing but forced one turnover and had three sacks.

Bert Reed was the team's second-leading receiver with eight catches for 74 yards and Fortson added three catches for 56 yards. On defense, middle linebacker Kendall Smith had a team-best 10 tackles and two sacks.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - It's the stuff legends are made of. The type of defining moment in one's career that helps describe what type of player you are.

Florida State quarterback Christian Ponder got to experience one of those moments in Saturday's nail-biting, come-from-behind 45-42 over visiting N.C. State - with a little help from his buddy Bert Reed.

Trailing by four with just 3:39 to go in the ballgame, Ponder orchestrated an eight-play, 66-yard drive that saw the redshirt junior complete three of his five pass attempts for 46 yards.

Ponder, who was noticeably not 100 percent all day long because of a rib contusion he sustained early in the game, was 26-of-40 for 277 yards and one touchdown. He did throw his second interception (and eventual third) of the season but it happened after a staggering 254-straight passes without a miscue.

Wide receiver Rod Owens followed up his memorable performance against North Carolina with seven catches for 56 yards and one touchdown and Taiwan Easterling led all FSU players with 73 yards on five grabs. Reed added 66 yards on six catches to go along with his impact in the running game.

Just over a week after a record-setting 98-yard pass-play got the 'Noles into the endzone against the Tar Heels, FSU used a 98-yard drive to get on the board for the first time against N.C. State midway through the first quarter.

Undeterred, Ponder and the offense went right back onto the field and answered nearly as quickly as their counterparts. Just 1:05 later, true freshman Chris Thompson capped off a four-play 68-yard drive with his first-ever touchdown run as a Seminole.

The 'Noles standout signal-caller led FSU to a score on its first possession of the third quarter when he found a wide open Owens for a six-yard, go-ahead touchdown.

A much-needed defensive stop then helped FSU build its biggest lead of the game. Following a 17-yard punt return by Greg Reid, the Seminoles built a 38-28 advantage on Thompson's four-yard score with 11:52 left in the contest.

N.C. State then took its first lead of the game at 42-38 on Wilson's fifth touchdown pass of the day with just 3:50 left on the game.

CLEMSON, S.C. -- The Florida State football team's two-game winning streak has come to an end. The Seminoles (4-5, 2-4 Atlantic Coast Conference) fell 40-24 on the road at Clemson (6-3, 4-2) Saturday night in a contest that was close all game until the final quarter.

FSU boasted a 24-21 advantage heading into the final period of play but a stout Tiger defense -- run by former FSU linebackers coach Kevin Steele -- and an offensive explosion helped Clemson run away with the win and into the driver's seat of the ACC's Atlantic Division.

The Tigers forced Seminoles' quarterback Christian Ponder into a career-high four interceptions. Clemson's Heisman Trophy candidate C.J. Spiller was unstoppable as he rushed for a career-best 185 yards and one score. As for Ponder, he finished the night 21-of-33 for 264 yards and just one score. Jermaine Thomas rushed for over 100 yards for the second straight game for the 'Noles. The Jacksonville, Fla. native accrued 119 yards on 26 carries and had one score. Rod Owens led the FSU receivers with nine grabs for 77 yards.

Tigers quarterback Kyle Parker tossed four touchdowns.

Florida State started the scoring Saturday night under the bright lights with Dustin Hopkins 35-yard field goal in the first quarter after a big punt return by fellow true freshman Greg Reid.

It didn't take Clemson long to get its first score as Dwayne Allen snagged an 18-yard scoring pass from Parker but the Tigers missed the extra point.

Down by three points, a nifty Seminole play on the team's next possession swung the game back in favor of the visiting team. On the play, Ponder faked a handoff, then faked a reverse and then finally connected with true freshman Lonnie Pryor for the first-year player's first-ever touchdown reception. The 49-yard scoring pass gave the 'Noles a 10-6 lead late in the first quarter. The exciting offensive play was then followed up by an equally thrilling defensive one when senior rover Jamie Robinson took his third interception of the season 52 yards to pay dirt, increasing the FSU lead to 17-6.

After FSU backup tailback Chris Thompson fumbled the football a few minutes later, Clemson made the miscue hurt even more. Two plays after the Seminole turnover, Parker connected with Xavier Dye on a 43-yard touchdown pass and then Spiller scampered in on the two-point conversion to trim the deficit to 17-14.

On FSU's ensuing drive, Ponder was intercepted for the first time of the evening and it looked like Clemson was going to use the takeaway to then take the lead. But Markus White's forced fumble on Parker and recovery by Dekoda Watson kept the 'Noles on top.

Spiller gave Clemson its first lead of the ballgame when he nabbed a swing-pass out of the backfield and took it 58 yards for the go-ahead score after both team's emerged from the locker room at halftime.

Down 21-17, Thomas plunged across the goal line with 5:04 left in the third quarter to regain the Seminole lead. Thomas' dive into the endzone capped an impressive FSU drive that saw Ponder and the offense convert several difficult third downs.

Unfortunately for the 'Noles, that score would be the last feel-good moment of the night. The Tigers got a nine-yard touchdown run from Andre Ellington, a two-yard touchdown reception from Durrell Berry and a five-yard run by Spiller in the final 10 minutes of the fourth quarter.

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. - With college football's longest active bowl-game streak on the line and their redshirt junior quarterback relegated to the sideline with a season-ending injury, the Florida State football team turned to a rookie at Wake Forest.

Making his first career start, redshirt freshman EJ Manuel guided the Seminoles to a 41-28 win over the Demon Deacons.

With injured starter Christian Ponder serving as his sideline mentor, Manuel completed 15 of his 20 pass attempts for 221 yards, one touchdown and just one interception. He also made plays with his legs, rushing for 45 yards on 10 carries with one score. As an offense, FSU scored on six of its nine possessions, accrued 436 total yards and was only forced to punt twice.

Starting tailback Jermaine Thomas was terrific toting the football. He rushed for a game-high 148 yards on 25 carries, marking the third game in a row that the Jacksonville, Fla. native has scampered for triple-digit rushing yards.

Bert Reed led all FSU receivers with 82 yards on five catches. Jarmon Fortson added three catches for 60 yards and one touchdown.

For Wake Forest, Riley Skinner was looking to become the first-ever quarterback to beat the Seminoles four times. He didn't get that chance, though, because he tossed two interceptions - one to Ochuko Jenije and another to Kendall Smith - with just one score.

Wake trimmed FSU's lead to 34-21 in the third quarter and early in the fourth quarter Manuel showed his moxie by converting a key third down to wide receiver Rod Owens that kept a drive alive. A few plays later he showed his dual-threat ability with a neat little fake pitch on an option that resulted in a 24-yard gain on the ground.

Two plays later Manuel tossed his first-ever touchdown pass when he found Fortson for a seven-yard score to give the Seminoles a 41-21 lead.

Clinging to a 20-point advantage, the FSU defense bent, and then bent some more on the ensuing Wake Forest possession but Jenije didn't let his unit break as he picked off Skinner in the endzone.

The Seminoles scored on their first four possession of the first half as Manuel didn't look anything like a quarterback without much experience. The Virginia Beach, Va. native showed an early sign of things to come on the game's first drive as he took the offense 81 yards down the field and into the endzone on a Ty Jones rush. Then, after Wake Forest had scored on its first possession to tie the score at 7-7, FSU answered with a 68-yard touchdown drive that culminated with Thomas' plunge over the goal line.

Trailing 14-7, Skinner tried to force a throw and linebacker Kendall Smith snatched it and took it back to the 'Noles 27-yard line. After two long, methodical scoring drives, FSU needed just a few plays to extend its lead after Skinner's turnover and for the first time in his young career Manuel snuck into the endzone on a one-yard rush to push his team's lead to 21-7.

A few minutes after the 'Noles turned a defensive stop into a 47-yard field goal by true freshman kicker Dustin Hokpins, another stop by the FSU defense directly led to some points.

Fielding a punt off the bounce, defensive back Greg Reid - yet another first-year Seminole playing valuable minutes in high-pressure situations - zigged, zagged and leaped his way to pay dirt as he registered the first punt return of his career on what was a 68-yard score.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. - Mickey Andrews had the privilege of symbolically planting the flaming spear into midfield at the start of the game, and then his defense came up with its two biggest stands of the season in Florida State's 29-26 win over Maryland.

With FSU trailing 26-22 and just 2:52 left on the clock, the defense held Maryland to a three-and-out and after redshirt freshman quarterback EJ Manuel had guided what would turn out to be a game-winning drive, the Seminole defenders forced a four-and-out to preserve the win.

The Seminoles (6-5, 4-4 Atlantic Coast Conference) are now bowl-eligible as they will extend their nation's best bowl streak to a staggering 28 seasons.

After the three-and-out defensive stand, true freshman defensive back Greg Reid fielded the Maryland punt with just 1:46 left in the game and the Seminoles down 26-22. Reid made amazing moves and took the ball back 48 yards all the way to the Maryland 44 yard-line.

A dual-threat at the quarterback spot, Manuel achieved his first-ever game-winning drive by scrambling for a combined 35 yards on the first two plays. Once he had gotten the Seminoles to the Terrapins 29-yard line with 1:19 left, he threw a six-yard pass to Taiwan Easterling and then let another true freshman, tailback Lonnie Pryor, lunge into the endzone from three yards out for winning score.

Manuel finished the game 17-of-27 for 206 yards and those three interceptions and 49 yards rushing, Pryor led all rushers with two carries for 57 yards and two scores, and receivers Jarmon Fortson and Rod Owens had five catches apiece for 71 and 52 yards.

Starting tailback Jermaine Thomas had 11 carries for 44 yards and one touchdown and wide receiver Bert Reed ran the ball three times for 42 yards and one score. Nigel Bradham led the defense with 10 total tackles and the first sack of career for a Seminoles team that wore brand new Nike Combat uniforms against the Terps.

FSU may have turned it over on its last possession of the first half but Maryland did the same on its first possession of the second half. The Terps were marching down the field but Patrick Robinson jarred the ball loose from Terrapins receiver Adrian Cannon and sophomore linebacker Bradham pounced on it. The referees initially did not see the turnover as Cannon was falling out of bounds but instant replay revealed it was in Florida State's ball.

Robinson's forced fumble didn't turn into any points - a trait displayed by both offenses in a scoreless third quarter. Maryland ended the points-drought less than three minutes into the final period when Jamarr Robinson connected for a seven-yard touchdown pass with Cannon, who broke an Ochuko Jenije tackle to get into the endzone. The Terps were then unsuccessful on a two-point conversion attempt.

Trailing for the first time in his young career, Manuel relied on the legs of Reed on FSU's ensuing possession.

A play after Manuel threw a third-down laser to Rod Owens for a 13-yard gain, Reed grabbed an end-around, gave a head fake on a Maryland defender, and then sprinted 44 yards for the score.

Unlike Maryland, the Seminoles converted their two-point conversion attempt. On the play, Manuel threw a pass over the middle that was grabbed by wide receiver Taiwan Easterling to give FSU a 22-19 lead with 10:30 remaining in the game.

That lead would be short-lived, though. Maryland had an answer on its next drive and marched 79 yards down the field and retook the lead on Meggett's nine-yard run.

GAINESVILLE, Fla. -- The Florida State football team fell to No. 1 Florida by a score of 37-10 in Gainesville.

By dropping the rivalry game to the Gators, FSU finishes its 2009 season with a 6-6 mark. The team will now await word on where it will continue college football's longest active bowl streak of 28 seasons in a row.

With backup quarterback EJ Manuel at the helm of the offense for the third game in a row because of the shoulder injury to starter Christian Ponder, the Seminoles could not generate much consistency all day against a UF team that ranks No. 2 in the country in total defense.

Manuel finished the contest 19-of-30 for 198 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions.

Rod Owens and Jarmon Fortson were Manuel's go-to receivers at Ben Hill Griffin Stadium. Owens had six catches for 62 yards and Fortson had four for 58 and one score.

Manuel led all FSU rushers with 27 yards on 11 carries. Starting tailback Jermaine Thomas had just seven rushes for 21 yards.

Defensively, Florida State was unable to slow down Tim Tebow. The fourth-year Gator quarterback connected on 17 of his 21 pass attempts for 221 yards and three touchdowns. Florida churned out over 300 yards on the ground.

Florida State scored its first touchdown of the game with 6:05 remaining in the fourth quarter when Manuel - showing his moxie despite the day's events - lobbed a pass to the back of the endzone to Fortson.

Fortson, who had snagged a long throw just one play later, jumped into the air and caught the nine-yard pass to move the score to 37-10.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. - Bobby Bowden watched the clock run down to :00, then took his last walk to midfield as his Florida State players jumped up and down, thrusting their helmets into the air.

The coach went out a winner, carried off by the Seminoles.

Jermaine Thomas ran for two touchdowns, Florida State scored 20 straight points to take control and the Seminoles knocked off No. 18 West Virginia 33-21 at the Gator Bowl in the final game of Bowden's storied 44-year career as a head coach.

Bowden finished with a 389-129-4 record, and most importantly to him, a 33rd consecutive winning season.

On this day, the Florida State faithful serenaded Bowden with "Bob-by! Bob-by!" chants throughout the day, saving their loudest cries for the very end.

With 1:39 left, Bowden trotted down to the Florida State band section, removing his autographed white cap and tossing it into the seats - and the celebration began. When it was over, Bowden was surrounded by a wall of photographers, trying to make his way over to shake the hand of West Virginia coach Bill Stewart - who was a 177-pound walk-on for Bowden's first Mountaineers team in 1970.

This was Bowden's day, and the Seminoles made sure he wouldn't be denied.

There was a pregame video of Bowden highlights. He got a new car, a gift from Toyota and the Gator Bowl. And then came a rare treat even for Bowden, the right to take the flaming FSU spear from Chief Osceola and slam the point into the turf at midfield, one of Florida State's most revered pregame traditions.

The tributes didn't stop at kickoff, either.

He often kept to himself, hands either clasped behind his back or at his sides. He talked to players individually, sometimes offered a quick thought to Fisher, then would go back to pacing about. A few times, Bowden took a quick look around the stadium, almost as if he was taking a mental picture of it all.

After Jamie Robinson intercepted Brown early in the second quarter, Florida State got back into it on Thomas' first touchdown of the day, a 12-yard rush. Dustin Hopkins, who missed a 37-yard try earlier in the period, connected on a 42-yard field goal with 8 seconds left in the half, getting the Seminoles within 14-13 at the break.

Reid took the second-half kickoff 69 yards to the West Virginia 9, setting up another field goal. And - helped greatly by Jarmon Fortson's ridiculous, leaping, one-handed, 29-yard catch - Thomas scored from 19 yards out later in the third to give Florida State a 23-14 lead into entering the last 15 minutes of Bowden's career.

Ryan Clarke plunged in from 5 yards away for West Virginia on the first play of the fourth quarter, but the Seminoles answered with a methodical drive to restore the nine-point lead, quarterback E.J. Manuel's 2-yard touchdown burst putting Florida State up 30-21.

It would be the last touchdown anyone would score for Robert Cleckler Bowden, and soon, the man who saved Florida State's program would start hugging anyone he could get his arms around on the sideline.
